

CREATE YOUR OWN BRICK WALL!

We created this wall to help us make the perfect “back alley entrance” for our Juice Joint party!

MATERIALS

- Styrofoam (found at a hardware/home supply stores)
- Wood burning tool (found at craft stores~ $10)
- Red paint (we used spray paint)
- Black spray paint
- Grey poster paint

MAKING YOUR BRICK WALL

- Use a permanent marker to draw in the cracks and any design you might want.
- With the wood burning tool, burn where you have drawn in your details.
- Paint the styrofoam with the red paint. Note: if using spray paint, do not spray too closely to the styrofoam, as the paint will eat away at the foam.
- With the grey paint, paint in the details where you have burned. You may want to water the paint down a bit to get into the cracks and details.
- Once dried, hold the black spray paint at a 90 degree angle to the wall and coat the wall VERY LIGHTLY with the paint, just enough to give the wall an aged and weathered look.
